Terrain description

Area of former Red army airfield. Mostly on the paved or concrete roads. Lot of ruined buildings and other man made features. Out of the road areas are covered with high undergrowth which can hide obstacles like holes and other terrain deprivations, trash etc. Please be careful if you choose to run off the track through the forest. Green symbol is used for really dense part of the forest, where is almost impossible to go through. On the white - well you can try there.

There will be a lot of competitors in the area - please watch out and be careful on the corners.

Maps will be collected at finish and will be handed out after the start of the last competitor.

Terrain description

Moderately hilly terrain with network of forest paths. Most of the paths has physically demanding surface. You will face some steep uphill and downhill, singletracks and of course the sand roads. The area was used as a training ground for Red Army tank troops, and even after 24 years one can still find its footprints. Trenches for the soldiers and tanks, and of course the tank drivers training ground.
